INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The Chinabank Cash Fund intends to achieve a high level of liquidity and better earnings potential than those offered by regular savings deposit accounts and money market placements by investing in a diversified portfolio of deposits with a weighted average portfolio modified duration of not more than one (1) year. The Fund aims to outperform its benchmark which is the Bloomberg Philippine Sovereign Bond Index Money Market (BPHILMM Index).

CLIENT SUITABILITY

A client profiling process shall be performed prior to participating in the Fund to guide the prospective investor if the Fund is suited to his/her investment objectives and risk tolerance. Before deciding to invest, clients are advised to read the Declaration of Trust, a copy of which is available at the Trustee's principal office.

The Chinabank Cash Fund is suitable only for investors who:

- have a conservative risk appetite;
- are looking for a cash parking facility offering acceptable returns; and
- have an investment horizon of one (1) year or less.

KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

The client should not invest in this Fund if the client does not understand or is not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

- Interest Rate Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates.
- Liquidity Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a loss. These may be caused by different reasons such as trading in securities with small or few outstanding issues, absence of buyers, limited buy/sell activity or underdeveloped capital market.
- Credit/Default Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans or other forms of security which the borrower issued. It also includes risk on a counterparty (a party the Trustee trades with) defaulting on a contract to deliver its obligation either in cash or securities.
- Reinvestment Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to have lower returns or earnings when maturing funds or the interest earnings of funds are reinvested.

The Trustee only transacts with reputable counterparties and invests in debt securities issued by prime corporate borrowers which have undergone a rigorous accreditation and evaluation process. Regulatory exposure limits as well as the Fund's average duration are monitored regularly to ensure that exposures are managed. The Fund also undergoes an annual review to ensure that it is equipped to fund any redemption requirement in a timely manner and at a reasonable cost during times of financial stress.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

In March, the peso yield curve slightly bull flattened as Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) Governor Remolona signaled expectations of rate cuts in the future despite the central bank's hawkishness. Yields across the curve went down by 3 basis points (bps) on average, with both the belly and the long-end falling by 4 bps on average. The 2-year benchmark, however, outperformed, falling by 7 bps to end at 6.0425%. The 10-year rate meanwhile went down by 1 bp to fetch 6.2322%. Total traded volume for March was Php545.285 billion, which was a 14% increase versus February's Php477.668 billion volume. The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas' (BSP) bills remained to be the major contributor to the volume, accounting for 31% or Php168.289 billion. This was followed by FXTNs and RTBs accounting for 25% each or Php136.070 billion and Php136.074 billion, respectively.

Data release in March saw the Philippines' inflation rate rebounding to 3.4% in February, after four consecutive months of decline, falling within the BSP's expected range of 2.8% to 3.6%. The rise was mainly driven by a surge in food prices, particularly rice, reaching a 15-year high of 23.7% due to tight supply and global price increases. Transport costs also contributed, growing from 0.3% to 1.2%. Housing, gas, and utilities saw a slight increase from 0.7% to 0.9%. Core inflation, which excludes volatile items like food and energy, eased to 3.6% from 3.8% in January. Year-to-date, inflation stood at 3.1%, below the BSP's full-year forecast of 3.6%. With this, the BSP suggested that maintaining current monetary policy settings is appropriate for the near future.

Meanwhile, economic data released in the month was mixed. The unemployment rate rose sharply in January to 4.5% from December's low of 3.1%, with 2.15 million people unemployed, which may be attributed to a dip in jobs coming from the peak holiday season. Major job losses occurred in wholesale and retail trade, agriculture and forestry, public administration and defense, and manufacturing. Despite this, the services sector remained the largest employer at 60.2%, followed by agriculture at 21.4% and industry at 18.4%. Additionally, 6.39 million people sought more work hours in January, leading to an increase in underemployment to 13.9% from December's 11.9%. Also affected by the seasonal dip was cash remittances from Filipinos abroad, which declined in January to USD2.836 billion, from the record-high USD3.28 billion in December of last year. Despite the decrease, cash remittances grew by 2.7% compared to January 2023, with the United States remaining the largest contributor, accounting for 41.8% of the total.

Conversely, bank lending accelerated in January. The outstanding loans of universal and commercial banks surged by 7.8% to Php11.54 trillion, compared to the 7.1% growth in December. Loans for production activities rose by 5.9%, attributed to increased lending to key sectors like real estate and wholesale and retail trade. Moreover, consumer loans displayed strength despite elevated interest rates, climbing by 25.2% driven by strong demand for credit cards, motor vehicle loans, and salary-based loans.

In the local bond space, the Bureau of Treasury (BTr) auctioned off a total of Php120 billion in bonds and Php60 billion in bills for the month as programmed. Its four bond auctions for 7-, 10-, 20-, and 7-year tenors were met with strong demand averaging 2.11 times bid-to-cover ratio as rates were more or less flat versus previous auctions of the same tenor earlier in the year. Similarly, the treasury bill auctions generated robust demand averaging 3.1 times bid-to-cover ratio. The month ended with the 91-day bill rate flat at 5.71% versus end-February, while the 182- and 364-day bills fell by 9 bps and 10 bps, respectively.

In the coming month, we expect the market to take its cue from the March inflation print, which the BSP expects to quicken due to base effects. The BTr also released its borrowing program for the second quarter, which shows the usual weekly auction of bills and bonds totaling Php15 billion and Php30 billion, respectively, per issuance. Bond auctions will be in the 7-, 10-, 15- and 20-year tenors, which are expected to add some supply overhang in the long-end part of the local bond yield curve.
