INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The Chinabank Dollar Fixed Income Fund intends to achieve a steady stream of income by investing in a diversified portfolio of high-grade marketable securities comprised mainly of Philippine sovereign bonds as well as US treasury bonds of varying tenors with a weighted average portfolio modified duration of not more than ten (10) years. The Fund aims to outperform its benchmark which is the Bloomberg EM USD Sovereign-Philippine Total Return Index.

CLIENT SUITABILITY

A client profiling process shall be performed prior to participating in the Fund to guide the prospective investor if the Fund is suited to his/her investment objectives and risk tolerance. Before deciding to invest, clients are advised to read the Declaration of Trust, a copy of which is available at the Trustee's principal office.

The Chinabank Dollar Fixed Income Fund is suitable only for investors who:

- have a moderate risk appetite;
- are willing to assume a certain level of risk in consideration for higher returns; and
- have an investment horizon of at least five (5) years.

KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

The client should not invest in this Fund if the client does not understand or is not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

- Interest Rate Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates.
- Market/Price Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in the market price of securities. It is the exposure to the uncertain market value of a portfolio due to price fluctuations.
- Liquidity Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a loss. These may be caused by different reasons such as trading in securities with small or few outstanding issues, absence of buyers, limited buy/sell activity or underdeveloped capital market.
- Credit/Default Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans or other forms of security which the borrower issued. It also includes risk on a counterparty (a party the Trustee trades with) defaulting on a contract to deliver its obligation either in cash or securities.
- Reinvestment Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to have lower returns or earnings when maturing funds or the interest earnings of funds are reinvested.
- Country Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses arising from investments in securities issued by/in foreign countries due to political, economic and social structures of such countries. There are risks in foreign investments due to the possible internal and external conflicts, currency devaluations, foreign ownership limitations and tax increases of the foreign country which are difficult to predict but must be taken into account when making such investments.

The Trustee only transacts with reputable counterparties and invests in debt securities issued by countries and prime corporate borrowers which have undergone a rigorous accreditation and evaluation process. Regulatory exposure limits as well as the Fund's average duration are monitored regularly to ensure that exposures are managed. The Fund also employs risk management measures to monitor significant declines in the Fund's NAVPu and alert the Trustee to review current strategies and take corrective action as necessary. Furthermore, the Fund undergoes an annual review to ensure that it is equipped to fund any redemption requirement in a timely manner and at a reasonable cost during times of financial stress.

The Bloomberg EM USD Sovereign-Philippine Total Return Index is a market value-based, unhedged index that tracks the performance of Philippine sovereign bonds denominated in US Dollars, particularly ROP bonds of different maturities. Additional information on the benchmark and/or its administrator can be found on Bloomberg, and be made available to investors upon request.

The benchmark provides a standard for evaluating the Fund's performance by helping investors/participants understand how the Fund is performing relative to the market or asset class the Fund represents. Additionally, the benchmark's characteristics serve as a reference point for the Fund's duration and credit positioning.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market sentiment during the month was largely driven by developments in the Middle East, particularly tensions surrounding the Strait of Hormuz. Initial reports of a proposed two-week ceasefire between the US and Iran sparked a relief rally. However, optimism faded as negotiations stalled despite mediation efforts from other nations, while renewed US naval activity in the Strait further escalated tensions. Brent crude oil futures initially declined by as much as 20% following the ceasefire announcement before recovering to end the month broadly unchanged.

In the US, March CPI accelerated to 3.3% YoY after an 11% surge in energy prices, while core CPI remained relatively stable at 2.6%. Rising prices weighed on sentiment, with the University of Michigan consumer confidence index falling to a record low of 47.6 in April, while 1-year inflation expectations rose to 4.8%. Meanwhile, the Federal Reserve kept policy rates unchanged at the April 29 FOMC meeting, with an 8-4 vote, marking the highest level of dissent since 1992, as three officials objected to the easing-bias language. The US economy expanded by 2.0% in Q1 2026, while March PCE inflation accelerated to 3.5% YoY. Core PCE held at 3.2% YoY, remaining above the Fed's target and reinforcing expectations that the Fed will likely remain data-dependent and delay policy easing in the near term. Against this backdrop, US Treasury yields rose, with the 2-year benchmark up 8 bps to 3.887% and the 10-year benchmark up 7 bps to 4.421%.

Locally, the Philippine Peso continued to weaken, with the USD/PHP exchange rate closing near an all-time high of 61.48. Headline inflation accelerated to 4.1% YoY in March, breaching the BSP's target range. In response, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas raised its policy rate by 25 bps to 4.50%, signaling the end of the easing cycle. The BSP described the move as intended to preempt further inflationary pressures and revised its CPI forecasts upward to 6.3% for 2026 and 4.3% for 2027. Despite the hawkish backdrop, ROP bond yields declined during the month, with the 2-year benchmark falling 23 bps to 4.162% and the 10-year benchmark easing 13 bps to 5.243%. Overall, spreads versus US Treasuries narrowed by an average of 24 bps.

Looking ahead, yield movements are expected to remain volatile as markets reassess inflation trends and the trajectory of monetary policy. In this environment, the Fund remains selective in its bond purchases, seeking to enhance portfolio yield while carefully managing duration risk.
