KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

The client should not invest in this Fund if the client does not understand or is not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

- Interest Rate Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates.
- Market/Price Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in the market price of securities. It is the exposure to the uncertain market value of a portfolio due to price fluctuations.
- Liquidity Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a loss. These may be caused by different reasons such as trading in securities with small or few outstanding issues, absence of buyers, limited buy/sell activity or underdeveloped capital market.
- Credit/Default Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans or other forms of security which the borrower issued. It also includes risk on a counterparty (a party the Trustee trades with) defaulting on a contract to deliver its obligation either in cash or securities.
- Reinvestment Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to have lower returns or earnings when maturing funds or the interest earnings of funds are reinvested.

The Trustee only transacts with reputable counterparties and invests in debt securities issued by prime corporate borrowers which have undergone a rigorous accreditation and evaluation process. Regulatory exposure limits as well as the Fund's average duration are monitored regularly to ensure that exposures are managed. The Fund also employs risk management measures to monitor significant declines in the Fund's NAVPu and alert the Trustee to review current strategies and take corrective action as necessary. The Fund also undergoes an annual review to ensure that it is equipped to fund any redemption requirement in a timely manner and at a reasonable cost during times of financial stress.

The BPHIL13 Index is a systematically designed, rules-based, market value-weighted index that measures the performance of intermediate-term, fixed-rate local currency securities that are publicly issued by the Philippines. It includes a diversified range of fixed income securities with different coupon rates, maturities of between 1 to 3 years, minimum par amounts of Php3.0Bn, and are traded in the Philippine market. This Index is adjusted for tax by the Trustee, but does not reflect deductions for fees and expenses. Additional information on the benchmark and/or its administrator can be found on Bloomberg, and be made available to investors upon request.

The benchmark provides a standard for evaluating the Fund's performance by helping investors/participants understand how the Fund is performing relative to the market or asset class the Fund represents. The benchmark reflects the performance of peso-denominated fixed income securities with maturities of between 1 to 3 years. Additionally, its characteristics serve as reference point for the Fund's duration and credit positioning.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

The Philippine economy posted a full-year 2025 GDP growth of 4.4%, undershooting the lower end of the government's 5.5%–6.5% target range, weighed down by ongoing governance concerns and typhoon-related disruptions. Growth momentum continued to soften into the year-end, with Q4 GDP slowing to 3.0%, following a downward revision to Q3 to 3.9%. In the final quarter, the investment component contracted further, while household consumption and government spending moderated. Market participants interpreted the weaker growth backdrop as increasing the likelihood of additional policy rate cuts by the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas

(BSP) in the following month, particularly as inflation remains well contained. The latest inflation print came in at 1.8%, bringing the full-year 2025 average to 1.7%, comfortably within the BSP's target range. On the currency front, the peso briefly touched another all-time low against the U.S. dollar, hitting 59.47 before recovering to 58.88. President Marcos commented on the administration's preference for the exchange rate to remain below 60.

Bond yields continued to steepen in January, driven by mixed movements across the curve. The 2-year yield declined by 16bps to 5.185%, while the 10-year eased by 7bps to 5.993%. In contrast, the long end remained elevated, with 20-year and longer tenors seeing an average uptick of around 10bps. In the primary market, the Bureau of Treasury (BTr) conducted its regular weekly auctions with generally healthy demand. Its auctions of 3-, 5-, 7-, 10-, and 25-year bonds attracted average bids of 2x, allowing the BTr to raise Php177Bn in total. In the corporate bond space, issuance was highlighted by BDO's 3-year ASEAN Sustainability bonds, which carried a coupon of 5.7125%, or roughly 20bps over comparable government securities. Strong investor demand enabled the bank to upsize the transaction significantly, increasing the initial offer size from Php5Bn to Php100Bn.

Looking ahead, the BTr's February auction calendar features offerings across the curve, including the issuance of a new 10-year benchmark bond. In addition, corporate bond supply is expected from Landbank, including its 1.5-year and 3-year ASENSO bonds, and from BPI, including its 2-year SIGLA bonds. Given expectations for policy rates and incoming supply, the yield curve bias remains toward further steepening. Against this backdrop, the Fund remains selective in bond acquisitions, seeking to enhance portfolio yield while carefully managing duration risk.
