INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The Chinabank Intermediate Fixed Income Fund intends to achieve income in the intermediate-term by investing in a diversified portfolio of high-grade marketable fixed income securities comprised of deposits issued by banks and other financial institutions including, the BSP securities, tradable money market instruments, government securities, corporate bonds and notes with a weighted average portfolio modified duration of not more than three (3) years, and preferred shares which are classified as debt securities. The Fund aims to outperform its benchmark which is the Bloomberg Philippine Sovereign Bond Index 1 to 3 Year (BPHIL13 Index).

CLIENT SUITABILITY

A client profiling process shall be performed prior to participating in the Fund to guide the prospective investor if the Fund is suited to his/her investment objectives and risk tolerance. Before deciding to invest, clients are advised to read the Declaration of Trust, a copy of which is available at the Trustee's principal office.

The Chinabank Intermediate Fixed Income Fund is suitable only for investors who:

- have a moderate risk appetite;
- are willing to assume a certain level of risk in consideration for higher returns; and
- have an investment horizon of at least three (3) years.

KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

The client should not invest in this Fund if the client does not understand or is not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

- Interest Rate Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates.
- Market/Price Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in the market price of securities. It is the exposure to the uncertain market value of a portfolio due to price fluctuations.
- Liquidity Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a loss. These may be caused by different reasons such as trading in securities with small or few outstanding issues, absence of buyers, limited buy/sell activity or underdeveloped capital market.
- Credit/Default Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans or other forms of security which the borrower issued. It also includes risk on a counterparty (a party the Trustee trades with) defaulting on a contract to deliver its obligation either in cash or securities.
- Reinvestment Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to have lower returns or earnings when maturing funds or the interest earnings of funds are reinvested.

The Trustee only transacts with reputable counterparties and invests in debt securities issued by prime corporate borrowers which have undergone a rigorous accreditation and evaluation process. Regulatory exposure limits as well as the Fund's average duration are monitored regularly to ensure that exposures are managed. The Fund also employs risk management measures to monitor significant declines in the Fund's NAVPu and alert the Trustee to review current strategies and take corrective action as necessary. The Fund also undergoes an annual review to ensure that it is equipped to fund any redemption requirement in a timely manner and at a reasonable cost during times of financial stress.

The BPHIL13 Index is a systematically designed, rules-based, market value-weighted index that measures the performance of intermediate-term, fixed-rate local currency securities that are publicly issued by the Philippines. It includes a diversified range of fixed income securities with different coupon rates, maturities of between 1 to 3 years, minimum par amounts of Php3.0Bn, and are traded in the Philippine market. This Index is adjusted for tax by the Trustee, but does not reflect deductions for fees and expenses. Additional information on the benchmark and/or its administrator can be found on Bloomberg, and be made available to investors upon request.

The benchmark provides a standard for evaluating the Fund's performance by helping investors/participants understand how the Fund is performing relative to the market or asset class the Fund represents. The benchmark reflects the performance of peso-denominated fixed income securities with maturities of between 1 to 3 years. Additionally, its characteristics serve as reference point for the Fund's duration and credit positioning.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Oil prices declined significantly in June, with Brent front-month futures ending at US$72.92 per barrel, almost back to the US$72.48 per barrel level prior to the escalation of the Middle East conflict earlier this year. The decline followed the announcement of an interim peace agreement between the United States and Iran, under which both parties agreed to a ceasefire and a 60-day negotiation period. Despite occasional reports of renewed strikes, market sentiment improved as commercial traffic through the Strait of Hormuz gradually resumed. Since the announcement of the truce, an average of 23 commercial vessels have transited the critical waterway each day. While still well below the historical average of more than 100 daily transits, this marks a significant improvement from the near standstill seen before the ceasefire, easing concerns over further disruptions to global oil supply.

Local bond yields declined across the curve in June. The 2-year government bond yield fell by 52 basis points to 6.30%, while the 10-year benchmark declined to 6.926%. Longer-dated government bond yields also ended below the 7% level, resulting in a flatter yield curve. Domestic macroeconomic data, however, remained mixed. Inflation eased to 6.8% in May from 7.2% in April, coming in below both the BSP's 7.1%–7.9% forecast range and the market consensus of 7.8%, largely due to lower transport costs. However, rice inflation accelerated to 15.6%, while core inflation rose to 4.1%, its highest level in two years. On the policy front, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas raised its policy rate by 25 basis points to 4.75%, marking its second consecutive rate hike. In the primary market, the Bureau of the Treasury raised Php160.5 billion, exceeding its Php155 billion funding target, with an average bid-to-cover ratio of 1.83x. Toward month-end, the Bureau of the Treasury released its Q3 2026 borrowing program, which remains broadly unchanged from the previous quarter at Php420 billion. Issuances are scheduled across the 3-, 4-, 5-, 7-, 10-, and 20-year tenors. Long-end supply continues to decline, with only two scheduled 10-year auctions and one 20-year auction. A new 5-year benchmark is also expected later in the quarter, coinciding with approximately Php110 billion in government bond maturities due in September. Meanwhile, scheduled Treasury bill issuance was increased to Php700 billion from Php324 billion in the previous quarter.

Looking ahead, market sentiment is expected to remain sensitive to developments in the ongoing U.S.-Iran negotiations over the next 60 days, as several key issues remain unresolved before a lasting peace agreement can be reached. Domestically, investors will monitor the impact of the recently announced minimum wage increase in the National Capital Region, as well as the potential effects of a strong El Niño on the inflation outlook. Meanwhile, the heavier concentration of bond supply in the front end of the curve, together with lighter issuance at the long end, could provide further support for a flatter yield curve. Against this backdrop, the Fund remains selective in its bond purchases, seeking to enhance portfolio yield while carefully managing duration risk.
