KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

The client should not invest in this Fund if the client does not understand or is not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

- Interest Rate Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates.
- Market/Price Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in the market price of securities. It is the exposure to the uncertain market value of a portfolio due to price fluctuations.
- Liquidity Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a loss. These may be caused by different reasons such as trading in securities with small or few outstanding issues, absence of buyers, limited buy/sell activity or underdeveloped capital market.
- Credit/Default Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans or other forms of security which the borrower issued. It also includes risk on a counterparty (a party the Trustee trades with) defaulting on a contract to deliver its obligation either in cash or securities.
- Reinvestment Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to have lower returns or earnings when maturing funds or the interest earnings of funds are reinvested.

The Trustee only transacts with reputable counterparties and invests in debt securities issued by prime corporate borrowers which have undergone a rigorous accreditation and evaluation process. Regulatory exposure limits as well as the Fund's average duration are monitored regularly to ensure that exposures are managed. The Fund also employs risk management measures to monitor significant declines in the Fund's NAVPu and alert the Trustee to review current strategies and take corrective action as necessary. The Fund also undergoes an annual review to ensure that it is equipped to fund any redemption requirement in a timely manner and at a reasonable cost during times of financial stress.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Geopolitical tensions in the Middle East intensified in March as the United States and Israel carried out coordinated air strikes on Iran. This triggered retaliatory attacks that damaged key infrastructure, including oil facilities. A key escalation occurred when the Strait of Hormuz, a critical waterway through which around 20% of the global oil supply passes, was disrupted. The disruption drove a sharp spike in oil prices and raised concerns about a significant supply shock. Brent front-month futures surged to $118.35 per barrel from $72.48 the prior month. Asian economies were particularly affected given their reliance on Middle East oil. The Philippines, which imports over 90% of its oil requirements, is among the more exposed economies. In response, the government declared a national energy emergency and is exploring mitigation measures, including fuel tax relief and supply diversification. Meanwhile, the peso depreciated to an all-time low of 60.745 against the US dollar, reflecting heightened risk aversion.

The conflict reignited volatility in financial markets. Bond yields moved higher across the curve, as markets priced out expected rate cuts and assessed the likelihood of policy tightening. Securities with maturities under 1 year increased by an average of 56 bps. The 2-year and 10-year government bond yields climbed by 88 bps and 105 bps to 6.03% and 6.97%, respectively, while longer-dated securities rose by an average of 52 bps, breaching the 7% level. The BSP held an off-cycle meeting and kept policy rates unchanged at 4.25%, saying it would allow more time to assess the impact of the supply shock. The central bank also raised its 2026 inflation forecast to 5.1%, above the 2 to 4% target band, and signaled that the April meeting remains open for potential policy adjustments. In the primary market, demand softened, with average bid-to-cover declining to 1.48x. Apart from the 5-year reissuance early in the month, which was fully awarded at Php30Bn, most auctions were partially awarded, as the Bureau of the Treasury rejected higher-rate bids. Out of the Php60Bn target, only Php25.3Bn was raised. The BTr also announced a lower bond borrowing program of Php420Bn for Q2, compared to Php500Bn in Q1.

Looking ahead, market conditions are expected to remain highly sensitive to developments in the Middle East, as prolonged supply disruptions could keep inflation elevated and weigh on growth. While higher inflation is negative for bonds, slower growth may provide some offset. Against this backdrop, the Fund remains selective in its bond purchases, seeking to enhance portfolio yield while carefully managing duration risk.
